Thurſday the 1. of September, 1642.

THis morning earely Nevves came to London by a Miniſter vvho came from Cambridge yeſterday, that by Order from the Honourable Houſe of Parliament, certaine Troopes of Horſe have ſurprized divers Heads of the Colledges, vvho vvere ſuſpected for ſending Monies and Plate to the King, and impriſoned them, and have ſearcht their Colledges, and taken avvay ſuch Plate and Money as they found there: And this afternoone Doctor Wren Biſhop of Ely vvas brought up to London, vvith other Doctors and Heads of Houſes, being guarded vvith 500. Horſe, vvho vvere ſeene comming thorovv Weſt-ſmithfield in in London, vvith a Cart load of Treasure brought up to the Parliament to be disposed of by them, and in the meane time the Bishop of Ely vvas conveyed to the Towver, vvith others in his company, till the Honourable Houses of Parliament shall determine vvhat is further to be done.

FINIS.